Fixed gaps like these are a good start. FSRS-based apps such as MintDeck go further and set the gap for each card from how well you knew it, so easy cards wait longer and hard ones come back sooner.

How to do one review

1. Read the prompt and answer it in your head, or out loud, before you look.
2. Check. Be honest about whether you really knew it.
3. Missed it? Bring it back tomorrow instead of waiting for the next gap.
4. Knew it instantly? It can wait longer next time.
